Mortgage Logic Corporation's Commitment to Privacy

Protecting your privacy and the confidentiality of your personal information has always been an important consideration of Mortgage Logic's operation, conduct and processes. As a provider of financial products and related services, the collection and use of customers' personal information is fundamental to our day-to-day business operations. We strive to provide you with the best customer service. To us, that includes treating your personal information fairly and with respect. Each Mortgage Logic employee and representative must abide by our commitment to privacy in the handling of personal information.

What is Personal Information?

Personal Information is information about an identifiable individual, but does not include the name, title, business address, or telephone number of an employee of an organization.

Accountability to Clients

At Mortgage Logic, we take our commitment to securing your privacy very seriously. We have appointed a member of our management team as our Chief Privacy Officer. The Privacy Officer is responsible for analyzing all personal information handling practices at Mortgage Logic and insuring that our Privacy Policy is up to date and in force at all times. Our employees and representatives are informed about the importance of privacy and receive information periodically to update them about our Privacy Policy and related policies. Each employee and representative of mortgage Logic is responsible for the personal information under his or her control.

Why We Collect Information

Whenever we collect information about you, we will explain how we intend to use it, either at that time or earlier. We will limit the information we collect to what we need for those purposes and we will use it only for those purposes. If we wish to use your information for any other purpose we will obtain your consent.

We ask you for information to establish a relationship and serve your financial needs. We obtain most of our information about you directly from you, as well as from various credit rating agencies and other third party sources. Personal information is required:

- to verify your identity;
- to evaluate your application for financing, particularly with respect to the credit risk being undertaken;
- to evaluate your financial needs and determine which financial products or related services, whether provided by us or organizations with which we have strategic

- alliances, may be of use to you and help meet your needs and to offer those to you; and
- to administer our financial and lending brokerage requirements properly.

Consent

Your knowledge and consent are required before we may collect, use or disclose your personal information, except in special circumstances, such as during a fraud investigation, an investigation by the police, or in situations otherwise permitted by law.

We accept any of the following as your consent for Mortgage Logic's existing use and future collection, use and disclosure of your personal information for the purposes identified herein or in any document in which you expressly give your consent:

- your receipt of this Personal Information Policy, unless you advise Mortgage Logic, either orally or in writing, that you do not agree with the terms stated in this Policy, and that you wish to opt out of all or portions of it;
- your unrestricted provision of information to Mortgage Logic either directly or through your spouse or family member that asserts to represent you; or
- your express written or oral consent as obtained through a mortgage commitment, a mortgage document or through an application process.

You may withdraw your consent at any time upon reasonable notice, subject to legal or contractual restrictions: for example, you may not withdraw your consent to disclosure of your information to our service providers (as defined below) during the term of your mortgage. Please note that withdrawing your consent may affect our ability to continue to provide you with the products and services that you have or would like to receive.

To withdraw your consent, you should contact our Privacy Officer at the address or telephone number listed. Unless we hear otherwise from you, you are giving to us your consent for the collection, use and disclosure of personal information as provided in this Policy for the purposes identified herein.

Limiting Collection of Information

The personal information about you which we collect will be limited to that which is necessary for the purposes identified to you by us. Information will be collected by us by fair and lawful means.

Limiting Use, Disclosure and Retention of Information

We will not use or disclose your personal information for purposes other than those identified to you at the time your consent was given. We will seek your further consent before using the information for purposes beyond the scope of your original consent.

There are some unavoidable types of disclosure of your personal information which may occasionally occur as part of Mortgage Logic fulfilling its routine obligations and/or conducting its business in the ordinary course. This includes, for example, disclosure to third party lenders, rating agencies, consumer reporting agencies, partners, consultants and suppliers to Mortgage Logic (also known collectively as "service providers").

We will retain your information only for the time it is required for the purposes we describe and for a reasonable length of time thereafter in case we need to meet any potential obligations or legal or government requirements. Once your personal information is no longer required, it will be destroyed or made anonymous.

Accuracy of Information

All decisions involving personal information should be based on accurate and timely information. While we will do our best to base our decisions on accurate information, we rely on you to disclose all material information and to inform us of any relevant changes.

Safeguarding your Information

We will protect your information, whether in electronic or paper based format, with strict safeguards and security measures, to protect it from unauthorized access, disclosure or misuse. We audit our security procedures regularly to ensure that they are being properly administered and that they remain effective and appropriate.

Openness

Mortgage Logic has prepared this plain language Privacy Policy to keep you informed. It is made available to the public in paper form at the address set out below, and in electronic form at www.mortgagelogic.ca.

Provision of Access to Information

We will give you access to the information we retain about you within a reasonable time, upon receipt of a written request and satisfactory identification. You also have the right to know to whom your personal information has been disclosed, except where such disclosure was to a governmental body or service provider for routine purposes or to a governmental body where that body has exercised a legal right to obtain same.

We may charge you a nominal fee for processing your request and if so we will give you advance notice of the amount thereof.

In some cases we may not provide access to personal information within our possession or control. This may occur if:

- doing so would reasonably be expected to threaten the life or security of another individual;

- disclosure would reveal confidential commercial information;
- the personal information is protected by solicitor/client privilege; or
- the information was collected during the investigation of a legal matter or for purpose related to the detection and prevention of fraud or cannot be disclosed for other legal reasons.

If we deny your request for access to your personal information, we will advise you in writing of the reason for the refusal.
